

DAILY GAZETTE

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1882.

BREAKFAST BRIEFS.

A complete collection of news items and happenings of the day.

County conventions are being held all around.

Fitz sold $2,500 worth of real estate yesterday.

The territorial Methodist Episcopal conference meets this week.

Edgar Cayless says Santa Fe county will go republican this fall.

The present political calm will certainly be followed by a storm.

The public is happy that the three cent pieces are being gathered in.

Mould, the mouldy man, enjoyed another domestic row last evening.

Advertise in the GAZETTE if you desire to secure the trade of the miners.

The colored minstrels will give another performance at Baca hall tonight.

Judge Bostwick went to Las Animas yesterday and W. M. Whitelaw went south.

The river bridge is falling full of holes. It should be repaired with a new bottom.

J. J. Fitzgerald has money to loan at a low rate of interest with undoubted security.

The excursionists are admiring the beauties of the Mesilla valley this morning.

The GAZETTE has over double the circulation of any other daily paper in the territory.

The Golden Rule is in receipt of a huge invoice of valises of all sizes and kinds. It is a feast for the eyes of carpet baggers to behold.

Can a young lady who is looking at one of the academy boys be said to have a pupil in her eye?

The Optic is now fitted up in its new quarters in the Fetterman building. It has a roomy and nice office.

M. Heise deals out the best of liquors and cigars over his bar. Go and sample them if you don't believe it.

Fred. Fernald, of William's drug store, has joined the New Mexico, Central and Northern engineer corps.

The new comet is getting away from us at a tremendous pace. It will not be long until he wings his way out of sight.

The Albuquerque Journal is authority for the assertion that Lamy junction is not in the hands of thieves and bunco steers.

Captain Barney is home from his southern trip. He will have the rooms vacated by the Optic fitted up for mercantile purposes.

Boss Kelly in New York and Ben Butler in Massachusetts, are again formidable champions of democracy in their respective states.

A party of young gentlemen took a trip to the summit of Hermit's peak Sunday. They scaled the giddy heights and did not lose their heads either.

A certain vendor on Centre street made an absent minded man throw up a peanut that he chanced to pick out of a box while talking to a friend the other day.

Mr. Conklin, proprietor of the saloon at the corner of Centre street and Grand avenue, yesterday received two handsome tables. One is a billiard table and the other a fifteen ball pool table.

Conductor Jim Curry yesterday sold his Chihuahua dog for the sum of twenty-five dollars. The sale was likely made to some disappointed excursionist, who thus sought a relic of the ancient city.

Harry Merrill has accepted the position of assistant manager of R. G. Donn's mercantile agency in this city. The office of this new agency will soon be moved into elegant quarters in J. Stein's new building.

The semi-monthly meeting of the board of trade takes place this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Knights of Pythias hall. The monthly meeting of the directors of the board of trade takes place at the same time and place.

A telegram was received yesterday from the Percha stating that a splendid strike had been made in the Brilliant mine, showing a large body of horn silver. Jefferson Reynolds, of this city, is largely interested in that mine.

The residents down on South Second street are kicking furiously about the new dance hall which has moved into their midst since the fire. They do not understand why they are thus afflicted and will appeal to the city council for a redress of grievances.

A people's convention to nominate county officers for Colfax county has been called to meet at Springer on next Saturday. This convention will also re-elect delegates to the Mora and Colfax convention to nominate a candidate for the territorial council.

Richard Brumel yesterday snatched a pocket book from the hands of Mrs. Alfred Davis while she was walking down Railroad avenue. Henry Coors saw the deed and gave chase to the rascal, overtaking and capturing him. He was delivered to the officers and taken before Judge Steele, who consigned him to the jail for want of bail.

Brumel is a lantern-jawed, hungry looking specimen, without much sense.

The colored troubadours gave a meritorious performance at Baca hall last night. The audience was not as large as it should have been, on account of the belief that the hall was not safe, which deterred many from going. However, those that were there got their money's worth in fun and music.

The minstrels will appear again to-night. They are real colored men and not white men blacked up for the occasion.

LAKE VALLEY.

Her Mines and Future Prospects.

As was indicated in a previous article, the mines of Lake Valley which have excited such wonder both at home and abroad, would be treated at a proper time. After the GAZETTE man had looked upon the rapidly growing young city of Lake Valley for a while, he leisurely strolled up to the north part of the town where the mill, sampling works and the mines are situated. The sampling works are kept busy only a portion of the time, but is a great aid to the mines in the vicinity, as it enables prospectors to get an intelligent idea of what they are doing without any great expense. The machinery is of the best material of the latest improved kinds and thus far has given perfect satisfaction to the owners and to those who have had their ores treated there. Tabor & Wurtzbach are the builders and the present owners and operators. The Sierra Grande and the Sierra Platte mining and smelting companies have been consolidated. This company owns the principle mine in the district. Mr. Gillett, formerly of the Canyon del Agua company of San Pedro, is the general manager.

The mill, superintended by Mr. E. D. Town, is a wonderful affair. A description of it is utterly out of question, as twenty stamps in full operation tend to confuse those not accustomed to such rackets, and furthermore it would take days of careful examination instead of only a few hours of casual looking.

The mill at present is running on Bridal Chamber ore, which is wonderfully rich in silver. During the month of August the mill produced $200,000 in silver bullion, and about $212,000 during the month of September. The mill is capable of turning out double these amounts during any one month if run at its full capacity, but as yet the company has not wanted any larger amounts. Chas. Heiman is the assayer for the company, and when he gets through with a rock its exact richness is known. He uses both the wet and dry processes, and has apparatus of the very best in use.

To the curiosity of ye reporter was to take a look at the great mines about which so much has been written of late and which created so much excitement at the Denver exposition and turned the attention of Colorado capitalists in the direction of New Mexico. It was the ore from the Bridal Chamber mine which created such universal astonishment in mining circles and secured the presidency of the American mining association to New Mexico over the older rivals of Utah, Colorado and Nevada.

On approaching the mines there is nothing special to excite the attention of the uninitiated. A low, rocky hill spreading out like a palm leaf from the mouth of the canyon, a number of dykes of reddish looking rock, a few drifts and shafts and that is all. A closer observation, however, reveals the worthless looking rock to contain silver in great quantities. It does not require an expert to determine the silver-bearing rock. It is patent to the most casual observer. Hundreds of tons of this ore is now on the dump awaiting treatment, and hundreds of tons are being lifted from the rich beds beneath.

Wm. Skyrn, the gentlemanly foreman of the mines, was sought out and requested to show a party of sight-seers through the mine. This he readily consented to do, and the party was told to follow on. Once in the mine, a stranger is perfectly lost. The tunnels, shafts and passage ways of various kinds creates so much confusion in the minds of those unacquainted with such places, that the first impulse is to retrace your steps and seek a more sunlit region. But a few candles and the friendly voice of the guide soon restores confidence and the intricate windings of the tunnels are gone through. At every step the great wealth of the mine is made more apparent. Shafts are descended and the thickness of the vein of ore is pointed out, the wall rocks shown and the dip explained. At some places the foreman would hold his candle up to a body of ore for a few minutes and the rock would show small buttons of silver. Thus the interesting voyage went on till a depth of about sixty feet had been reached when the famous Bridal Chamber was entered. Here a scene is presented that is not readily forgotten. Great masses and ledges of ore is to be seen on all sides. At one place a large chunk of ore valued at $60,000 was to be seen, and above you for a distance of twenty or thirty feet a solid bed of rich silver bearing rock was revealed. To all appearances the mineral is almost inexhaustible. It has been struck on all parts of the property and as the work of development goes on the mineral appears to become more abundant. There are millions of dollars in sight with no indications of it giving out.

Several other companies own mines in the vicinity, but as yet no great amount of work has been done, though there are evidences that they too have secured bonanzas of no small importance.

These are the mines which have astonished the world, and form the backing for Lake Valley, and right here it is met to say, that there are but few towns in the west which have been favored with such a solid foundation.

At present about one hundred and fifty men are at work in the mines.

The quarters of the officers are provided with every luxury, and visitors are treated with the greatest hospitality. The Kingston district will receive attention to-morrow's issue.

Las Vegas wholesale houses should send their traveling men into the Lake Valley and Kingston districts. The business men of those points depend almost wholly upon this city for their supplies and their constant inquiry is, why are not Las Vegas business men sending down their goods, or at least, why do they not send their traveling men here so that goods may be ordered from them? The people there are too busy building to go off to order goods, and the first drummers who strike the town will reap the reward. The business of that country naturally belongs to this city, and if it is properly handled will remain here, but it will not do to risk it too far. Other points are anxious to capture it, and unless it is closely looked after they will make inroads that will be dangerous to our trade. It is not only a convenience to the people of Lake Valley, but will redound to the interests of trade. Take this as a pointer and send your goods and traveling men into that country while the entire trade can be secured, and there will be no danger of ever losing it.

A Clever Thief.

Yesterday a colored dining-room boy at the St. Nicholas hotel was arrested for the theft of $108 from the till of the St. Nicholas hotel last Saturday. When Mr. Keller went to Denver a few weeks ago he left the key to the till but by some means the clerk did not get it as was intended, but it fell into the hands of S. Harrison, who waited for an opportunity to use it. The time seems to have presented itself last Saturday night. During the temporary absence of the clerk the boy slipped into the room, unlocked the till and got away with the money. But ill gotten gain will betray its holder, and the humble colored waiter of Saturday bloomed out into a high-toned colored gambler on Sunday, and bucked nearly all the games running during the day. Yesterday he boldly announced his intention of leaving the St. Nicholas hotel, and went down to one of the restaurants and ordered an oyster stew. After this had been properly served, the darkey flashed up a twenty dollar bill in payment. This excited the suspicions of the restaurant keeper, who at once informed Mr. Keller of the circumstances. Officer Franklin was at once put on the track of the robber. He was soon found and taken in charge. On returning to the St. Nicholas hotel for the purpose of searching the room, the darkey was noticed to throw something to one side on entering the hall. On examination it was found that the darkey had thrown a roll of money away. The roll contained something over eighty dollars. Mr. Keller's valise was found in Harrison's room. The evidence is conclusive and the dining room thief is good for two years in the pen.

Rather Encouraging.

A prominent business man of this city received a letter from the secretary of state of Michigan, in answer to a letter of inquiry concerning the projected railroad from El Moro to this city. The secretary's letter stated that a company known as the New Mexico, Central and Northern railroad company had been organized under the laws of the state of Michigan and filed in the secretary of state's office on the second of last June. The capital stock of the company is placed at $3,000,000, with five per cent. of a portion thereof already paid into the treasury for the current expenses. This puts a new face on the matter, and is likely to inspire confidence in the reality of the scheme. The actions of Corbin during his stay in this city has tended to destroy the confidence of the business public in the enterprise, but as the backing is now known to be good, the road may yet prove a reality. The people of Watrous appear to have faith in the road, and are making efforts to get it through that town. Corbin himself went to Watrous yesterday in answer to a telegram on business connected with the road and the strangest of all was that he put up four dollars in advance for the use of the team and buggy. On account of the absence of the chief the starting of the engineer's party was necessarily delayed until this morning. The provisions are all ready to be loaded.

Mica Mines.

L. W. Fife and Col. Friedrich, left Sunday for the upper Gallinas country. The object of these gentlemen is to complete a map of the Rio Gallinas mining district. As soon as this part of the work is completed, Col. Friedrich will start east for the purpose of placing the bonds. This begins to look like doing something. There is plenty of money in the mica business and all that is needed is to get the matter under proper headway. It always takes more or less money to start any enterprise and this is no exception. When sufficient bonds have been placed to furnish the necessary amount of money with which to put in machinery, developments will be pushed forward rapidly.

The American Mineral Exposition Company was organized last week in Denver, and almost the entire mineral display will be turned over to the new organization for permanent exhibit in the heart of the city of Denver. The commissioners were so thoroughly dissatisfied with their treatment by the managers of the national exposition company, that they would not allow the ores to remain with them. The plan is not yet abandoned to take the ore east.

It is a just recognition of the growing city of Las Vegas that her commissioner, Mr. Hadley, was elected to the presidency of the new company.

Democratic Convention.

The democratic convention for San Miguel county will be held Thursday, October 12th, at 1 o'clock p. m., at the democratic headquarters, for the purpose of nominating a county ticket.

The traveling public will find every thing first class at the Grand View Hotel.
